タイ王国・バンコクでサマースクール開催
Summer school held in Bangkok, the Kingdom of Thailand

サマースクールはグローバルリーダーに必要なスキル、知識を習得する有用な機会です。
2019年度は2度目の開催となるタイ王国（以下、タイ）の首都バンコクで行われ、履修生は国際的なコミュニケーション力を養いました。

Summer school is a useful opportunity to acquire the skills and knowledge a global leader needs.
During the 2019 school year, a summer school was held in Bangkok, the capital of Thailand for the second time, and students developed their international communication abilities.

文化を超えたコミュニケーション
Communication beyond culture

The fifth summer school was held in Bangkok, Thailand, for the second time, with Fifth and Sixth Inaugural Class students participating.
As students began preparing for the summer school, they were divided into two groups that were mixtures of students from the two classes, and they worked together through trial and error to achieve better performance on projects to be undertaken at Chulalongkorn University. We think they got satisfactory results. The ten-days summer school ran smoothly and it seems the two schools built a good friendship through their various topics.
Also, because the Chulalongkorn University department in charge was the information systems, Faculty of Engineering, the students were able to do work that made better use of information technology elements.
Cultural lectures organized by students enrolled in the program deepened communication between the two universities. In the project work Aleaathorn, there were more participants from Chulalongkorn University than in the past and all the groups, made up of members from both universities, competed through lively debate to win awards. The proposals, put together in a limited amount of time, deserved high marks and the voting-based judging was close.
After finishing this summer school, we’re thinking of having the students use SNS and the like to interact with participants at the host university from an early stage. We’re also considering revising the schedule. For example, if we could have factory visits or tours related to the history and culture of the venue in the first half and participants from the two universities could talk in a comparatively casual atmosphere, they could reduce the distance between them when communicating. This would enrich the subsequent group work.
As future leaders, we think the students felt the importance of communication ability in bringing together members from different cultures and with different skills. We want students to continue improving their skills by taking advantage of the international practice of the summer school.
